Technology and media are an ever-present and potent force in our kids' lives.

But it's far more complicated than labeling anything secular "bad", and everything Christian "good".

Join Dr. Jim Burns and learn how to help kids navigate today's media-saturated world.

Get a better handle on the ways you allow technology and entertainment to influence your kids — both positively and negatively.

Learn how you can help kids:

- Make confident and wise media choices.
- Understand the impact of technology and media on their lives.
