

A Leader Who Confronts Successfully

Part of the “Ultimate Leadership” Training Series

Training for business and ministry leaders

with Dr. John Townsend

No one likes confrontation. And no leader is successful without it.

Leaders face resistance in many forms and progress will never be possible without the ability to confront both personalities and problems respectfully and effectively.

This month, on CCN's Ultimate Leadership series, Dr. John Townsend helps leaders in business and ministry gain the skills they need to utilize confrontation as a positive and productive part of the work environment.

Dr. Townsend says that confrontation is an indispensable tool, helping leaders take significant strides towards reaching their goals.

This practical broadcast will train your leadership team to:

- Communicate honestly and directly
- Resolve issues quickly and decisively
- Support their actions with the love of Christ

Join us for Ultimate Leadership and become a leader with the courage and the skills to confront successfully!

Dr. John Townsend a clinical psychologist, is co-founder and co-director of Cloud-Townsend Resources. He is the best-selling author of Hiding from Love, and coauthor of the Boundaries series, Safe People, and How People Grow.
